All of our solid wood furniture is built with sustainably harvested, North-American hardwoods like cherry, walnut, maple and oak. These woods come from trees that grow natively in our local forests. This means less resources are expended transporting the wood from forests to saw mills and workshops.

"Solid wood furniture is exactly as it sounds, furniture assembled from solid pieces of wood, as opposed to a hardwood veneer over an MDF (medium-density fiber) board. Solid wood furniture is typically heavier and more expensive than its veneer and MDF counterparts," says Betsy Moyer, Co-Founder of Retreat.

Ask Questions: Don't hesitate to ask the seller about the materials used. Specifically, ask if the furniture is made from solid wood or if it uses any engineered wood products. Inspect the Piece: Look for signs of veneer or laminate. Solid wood furniture will have consistent grain patterns and color variations, whereas veneered furniture will have a ...
