Their company, Grapevine, Texas-based Solo Brands, makes the Solo Stove -- a backyard fire pit that the Jan brothers describe as a "virtually smokeless" campfire alternative. It's a Kickstarter success story: The stove's campaign hit its $15,000 goal in just two hours back in 2016, ultimately raising more than $1.1 million.

He also quickly assigned PMG as Solo Stove's media agency of record to improve marketing efficiency, increase demand and deepen connection with consumers with effective media planning and performance marketing.

Although Solo Stove makes everything from pizza ovens to grills, their star product is a portable, smokeless fire pit.. These stainless steel fire pits give off very little smoke and ash by creating an environment where the fire burns super hot. This creates a secondary burn that eliminates much of the ash and most of the smoke before reaching you.

The company offers a range of products, including grill-top pizza ovens, stove-top pizza ovens, and outdoor cooking centers, all designed to enhance the outdoor cooking experience by providing the ability to bake and roast a variety of foods. The company's products are sold to consumers in the outdoor cooking and grilling industry.
